Keynote Topic

“How to Help Motivate Survivors of Human Trafficking to Move Past Their Past”

Learning how effectively assist in the healing of human trafficking survivors is a very important and careful process.

At the forefront of providing victim services, professionals should promote safety, healing, justice, and rights for human trafficking victims. There are many difficult issues to address with the victim that require careful consideration to the fragility of the victim and how their experience has impacted them, as well as being educated in knowing how and when a victim may need to be referred out for very specialized care.

This Keynote session will discuss the realities of what you need to know to help empower victims of human trafficking, and bring them to a point where they are able to participate in efforts to bring traffickers to justice.

Keynote Speakers

Human Trafficking Survivor and Victims Advocate, Theresa Flores

Human Trafficking Survivor, Best Selling Author, Victim’s Advocate, Founder of S.O.A.P. (Save Our Adolescents from Prostitution), Consultant.

Ms. Flores has been a licensed Social Worker for over twenty years. She received a Master’s in Counseling Education from University of Dayton and a Bachelor’s of Social Work from Ball State University. Ms. Flores was appointed to the Ohio Attorney General’s Human Trafficking Commission in 2009 and has testified before the Ohio House and Senate in supports of Human Trafficking Legislation. Her efforts were a major part of the success of these bills being passed into laws. Additionally, the “Theresa Flores Law” was passed in Michigan that eliminates the statute of limitation for children who have been trafficked.

Ms. Flores is a survivor of domestic child sex trafficking and was sold in an underground crime ring in an upper middle class suburb outside Detroit from the time she was 15-17 years old. She now works with other survivors and is the Assistant Investigator with Global Centurion researching the mental and physical health problems of over 200 domestic trafficking survivors. The study entitled, “The Health Consequences of Human Trafficking” will provide best practices and systemic recommendations for health care providers.

She has received many awards including the University of Dayton’s Alumni Association 2013 Christian Service Award for her work with S.O.A.P. In January 2012 at the State of the State Address, Ms. Flores received The Courage Award from Ohio Governor Kasich for her work in human trafficking.

Ms. Flores was featured by the National Underground Railroad Freedom Center Museum in a traveling exhibit entitled, Invisible Slavery and has published four books, “The Sacred Bath” and “The Slave Across the Street” (in the UK and US) and “Slavery in the Land of the Free- a Student’s Guide to Modern Day Slavery”. The audio version of her memoir was nominated for The 2011 Audie Award, being in the top 5 of all memoirs and biographies and also has been on the Wall Street Journal and USA Today Best Seller list for e-books several times.

Ms. Flores was the featured in a short documentary, “The Girl Next Door”, which has won many awards at film festivals all across the U.S. Her story has been seen on The Today Show, MSNBC: “Sex Slaves-The Teen Trade”, the 700 Club, CNN/HLN, Glenn Beck’s “For the Record” as well as many local and national radio shows. Her national rescue mission- S.O.A.P. has been featured on Dateline, Nightline and America’s Most Wanted.

Lennie Alcorn has worked for 22+ years as a Parole Agent in the State of Michigan working with high risk offenders. She possesses an LLPC, MAC, CSOTS and MPC.

She is specialized through the National Association of Forensic Counselors to provide assessments and counseling to adult and juvenile sex offenders. She is BISCMI certified, specializing in assessment and treatment of Domestic Violence perpetrators as well as victims.

Lennie also has experience in assessing and treating substance abuse clients. Combining her Domestic Violence, trauma and Human Trafficking training she has counseled many survivors and has been a public speaker nationally, internationally and locally regarding human trafficking and treatment for survivors.

She has been essential in forming the first local Human Trafficking Response Team in Monroe County, Michigan. She has developed law enforcement as well as trainings and conferences in Human Trafficking. She has also formed the first SOAP survivor support group, assisted in the development of the SOAP “john school” and volunteering most of her time towards her passion to make everyone aware of the dangers of Human Trafficking regarding survivors, traffickers and “johns.”
Dr. Reed has been in clinical practice as a licensed Psychologist since 1977. He became Board-Certified in Serious Mental Illness, as an Advanced Practice Psychologist in 1999. He became Board-Certified as a Forensic Psychologist in 2004, and then founded the Warren County Forensic Psychology Center in Mason, OH. WE'RE MORE ALIKE THAN WE ARE DIFFERENT – Joseph Marinello, MA, CCDVC, Diplomate

In this time of emphasis on integration between the mind and body, we are suggesting there is a third and equally important component to whole person care—the Spirit.

The Spiritual Care Representative seeks to enhance the spirituality of each person we support. We do not seek to convert people to any particular faith; rather we seek to build upon their existing faith foundation.

The Spiritual Care Regional Representative:

- Attends quarterly Spiritual Care Committee meetings
- Acts as a liaison between the committee and the home/worksite, communicating upcoming events, ideas, and other information shared at the meeting
- Is an advocate in the home/worksite for prayer, devotions, and other spiritual life activities, and seek to develop the leadership of others in these areas
- Establishes bridges between the home/worksite and the local faith community, by advocating for regular church/synagogue attendance and involvement in church/synagogue activities
- Attends to the quarterly meetings prepared to share ideas that positively contribute to the spiritual life of the home/worksite

About Joseph Marinello

Joseph Marinello has been a member of NAFC since 2001, and is a Clinically Certified Domestic Violence Counselor, Diplomate, and NAFC Board Member. He is also the recipient of the 2018 NAFC Lifetime Achievement Award.

Mr. Marinello is currently an inpatient therapist, discharge planner and group facilitator with the River Birch Unit at Behavioral Health Davidson. He prides himself as being a seasoned veteran whom ignites his peers toward their commitment to excellence. His calm demeanor and excellent interpersonal skills allows him to engage patients with empathy, compassion, and competence.

Marinello has been awarded over 130 WOW cards by patients in the past 18 months. He was also recognized as one of the 80 finalists for the 2015 & 2016 Pinnacle Award. Prior to transferring to BH Davidson, Marinello was with the BH Charlotte Assertive Community Treatment Team where he spent 11% years working with dual diagnosis patients in the community. He was recognized numerous times as Employee of the Quarter.

Marinello is also an anti-violence educator who taught courses in Community Corrections, Institutional Corrections, Ethics in the Criminal Justice System, Introduction to Corrections and Domestic Violence. In terms of his research interests, he has developed a workbook for violent offenders entitled D.A.R.T. (Domestic Abuse Rehabilitation Treatment) and is very well recognized in the community for his work in the Domestic Violence arena.

Mr. Marinello is a Fellow, Diplomat, and was awarded Counselor of the Year 2005. In 2004, he was presented with a "Distinguished Member" award. Since 2001, he has presented workshops and seminars at numerous NAFC annual conference. In 2006 he was presented with the "Men for Change Award" by the state Attorney General from the North Carolina Coalition against Domestic Violence.

His many accomplishments as a Program Developer and Coordinator for the North Carolina Department of Corrections, a Facilitator for the Mecklenburg County NOVA Program, an educator for the Mecklenburg County Sheriff's Office and a "Qualified Mental Health Professional" provides valuable insight to his students. Beside his vast accomplishments he involves himself in the community with a program entitled Men for Change and is the educational coordinator for a project named "Coaching Boys Into Men”.

TRAUMA INFORMED PEER SUPPORT SERVICES: EMPOWERING CONSUMERS TOWARDS MEANINGFUL CHANGE – Michelle Gould MSW, LCSW, MSWAC, CCSOTS and Megan Aleandri MED, LPC

Goals and Objectives: The goals of the workshop are to support participants in understanding the following key concepts:

- The definition of Peer Support Services
- The evidence for Peer Support Services with Mental Health and Drug and Alcohol Consumers
- The components of Trauma Informed Care
- The use of Peer Support Services in a Trauma Informed Care Model

The purpose of this advanced workshop is help participants to better understand the use of Peer Support services with both mental health and drug and alcohol consumers. Significant research has shown the efficacy of peer models in reducing symptoms and relapse rates as well as improving overall quality of life. The workshop also seeks to support participants in understanding the benefits of providing trauma informed care and how Peer Support can be implemented to complement a trauma informed model to promote positive outcomes for consumers.

About Michelle Gould and Megan Aleandri

Michelle Gould has been a member of NAFC since 2012, and is a Certified Sex Offender Treatment Specialist and Master Social Work Addictions Counselor.

TELLING THE TALES OF TERROR: FORENSIC EVALUATIONS WITH IMMIGRANT SURVIVORS OF TERROR, HUMAN TRAFFICKING AND TARGETED PERSECUTION – Denise Ziya Berte’, PhD, CSOTS

The critical intersections between trauma, culture, criminality, human rights and the US and International Immigration Systems are at the forefront of the current national dialogue in the United States.

This workshop lays the basic foundation for the understanding of the Immigration Legal System pertaining to victims of specific relevant traumas and defines the role that forensic evaluators fulfill in verifying credibility, documenting traumatic events and reactions and confirming actual diagnosable major mental illnesses within an immigration court context.

The workshop includes general information about immigration as related to victims of Torture, Human Trafficking, Domestic Violence, Crime, and Target Groups for Persecution based on race, ethnicity, religion, social group and political opinion to provide the context in which forensic evaluations are used.

The workshop includes the delineation of characteristics of individuals with severe trauma and how they affect forensic evaluations. The workshop outlines specialized considerations in evaluating immigrant trauma survivors including cultural, contextual, and linguistic diversity.

The workshop provides an evaluation template for practitioners who may be interested in entering into this engaging field.

GOALS:

- Introduce participants to use of forensic evaluations in immigration proceedings focusing on special victims populations including individuals who have experienced Torture, Human Trafficking, Targeted Persecution, Criminal Victimization and Domestic Violence
- Familiarize participants with specialized issues in the forensic evaluation of traumatized individuals including instrumentation, interpretation, cultural context and trauma informed interpretation
- Provide a template for individual practitioners interested in conducting forensic evaluations for immigration proceedings including those related to victims of Torture, Trafficking, Persecuted Groups, Crime and Domestic Violence
OBJECTIVES:

- Participants will have an overview of the immigration legal system as related to victims of Torture, Human Trafficking, Targeted Groups, Violence Against Woman and Victims of Crime on US soil
- Participants will be able to identify at least three major categories of forensic evaluations used in immigration proceedings
- Participants will have a clear outline of specialized issues in immigrant evaluation such as instrument selection, interpretation, cultural analysis, etc. Related to traumatized immigrant individuals
- Participants will receive a template for structuring actual evaluations for immigrant court proceedings for survivors of trauma

STUDENT THREAT ASSESSMENT: GENERAL PRINCIPALS AND PRACTICAL APPLICATION - David R. Boehm, MSW, LCSW, CCDVC

There is no profile of a school threat situation or what is commonly referred to as a, “school shooter”. According to recent research, the overwhelming majority of students who made threats are safely returned to school, many times accompanied by a Safety Plan to reduce the threat of violence.

This workshop will introduce the participants to the difference between a threat assessment and a risk assessment, provide an understanding of the importance of a collaborative approach to working with school administration in completing a student threat assessment and the importance of having a thorough knowledge essential of the threat assessment research.

Suggested assessment tools for completion of mental health assessments and recommendations for references will also be provided along with the important elements of a school and student Safety Plan.

Goals:

- To provide participants with specialized information on conducting a Threat Assessment and a Student Threat Assessment
- To provide participants the general principals in completing a Student Threat Assessment
- To provide participants with applications that can be useful in completing a Student Threat Assessment

Objectives:

- Upon attending the workshop, participants will understand the fundamental differences in completing a Risk Assessment and a Threat Assessment
- Upon attending the workshop, participants will be able to define the four main types of threats as established by the US Secret Service and the National Threat Assessment Center
- Upon attending the workshop, the participants will understand the value of an adequate mental health screening as part of a Student Threat Assessment
- Upon attending the workshop, the participants will be aware of assessment tools that are helpful in conducting a Student Threat Assessment.
About David Boehm

David has over forty years of advanced clinical and administrative practice community organization, supervision of staff, classroom instruction and professional speaking. His clinical practice is with high-risk populations such as completion of Student Threat Assessments, Batterer Intervention Program, and Sex Offender Treatment.

He was employed for 12 years at Southwestern Virginia Mental Health Institute located in Marion, VA where he was a clinical social worker and Admissions Unit Director. From 1989 until April 1, 2017, David was employed with the Virginia Department of Corrections where he enjoyed being a Warden of three facilities. He now does part-time practice of 25 hours per week. Professional affiliations include being a Board Member of the Virginia Sex Offender Treatment Association, member of the Virginia Department of Health Human Rights Committee, Member of the National Association of Forensic Counselor, NASW member and a member of the Virginia Department of Health Professions Health Monitoring Committee.

David is a 1981 graduate of Virginia Commonwealth University with a Masters in Social Work, and a 1977 undergraduate of Virginia Tech.

WHAT’S UP WITH SOUTHERN DELAWARE? SOME THOUGHTS ON CHILD PORNOGRAPHY AND THE RURAL OFFENDER – Steve Eichel, PhD, ABPP, CCFC, CCSOTS

In the past several years, I have conducted 37 pretrial evaluations of men charged with possessing and/or distributing child pornography.

With a 2019 population of 980,421, Delaware is ranked 45th out of the 50 states for total population. There are only 3 counties in the state (from north to south, they are New Castle, Kent, and Sussex), and the state is divided by a canal that connects the Chesapeake and Delaware Bays.

Two-thirds of Delaware's population live "above [north of] the canal," which includes most of New Castle County. Yet of the 37 evaluations I have performed, 35 are from the two southernmost counties. In an informal discussion several years ago, an FBI agent told me she found the same pattern; I clearly recall her asking me “What's up with southern Delaware”; hence the title of this workshop.

In addition to a clinical interview, my psychosexual evaluations are centered around the Abel Assessment for Sexual Interests (AASI); I also include several personality measures (typically the M11PI-2 and MCMIII/IV), an actuarial measure (e.g., the STATIC-99R/2000) if and when appropriate, and one or more other measures when needed.

Based on feedback from referring attorneys, this format has proven to be extremely useful in subsequent plea-bargaining or trials. However, the highly significant difference ($X^2 = 19.4$, df=1, $p<.01$) is puzzling. Perusing the protocols of all 37 examinees, there seem to be several commonalities: (1) extremely little or no sex education; (2) being brought up in a hyper-religious home; (3) home or fundamentalist-Christian schooling, and (4) claims of little or no masturbatory activity.

Objectives:

By participating in this workshop, attendees will:

- Examine what a priori knowledge they have about child pornography and those who collect/disseminate it.
- Challenge themselves to distinguish between facts, beliefs and opinions.
- Examine proposed explanations for the significant demographic disparities in offenders noted by the presenter.
- Examine what, if any, alternative explanations might exist for the presenter’s findings.

He is a certified CPI Instructor as well as an Adverse Childhood Experience (ACE’s) trainer, a member of NAFC and holds the Clinically Certified Criminal Justice Specialist.

I am currently a member of the Behavioral Health Criminal Justice Committee, a Board Member of the Wayne County Community Corrections Advisory Board, a member of the International Nurses Association, the Division Director for a Federally Qualified Health Care Facility, “Central City Integrated Health,” and maintain a commitment to improving our health care delivery system and community.

DO I REALLY HAVE TO ASK THAT?: A CLOSE LOOK AT SUICIDE RISK AND ASSESSMENT – Darlene Johnson, MA, LPC-S and Tamara McJunkin, MA, LPC-S

This workshop will give an overview for all disciplines on the prevalence of suicide among average citizens and how it differs within various populations. We will debunk the myths associated with suicide, and discuss both risk and protective factors and the role they play.

We will examine both psychological and physical factors that contribute to increased risk, explore warning signs and their significance, as well as what questions you should ask and when to ask them. We will review various suicide risk instruments and how to use them. Finally, we will take a closer look at the ethical and legal implications associated with risk assessments.

Objectives:

- Myths associated with suicide
- Prevalence of suicide among various populations
WHY SELF-CARE ISN'T ENOUGH: THE SECRET OF COMPASSION RESILIENCY – Darlene Johnson, MA, LPC-S and Tamara McJunkin, MA, LPC-S

Individuals in the “helping profession” are in a unique situation, they have the potential to be negatively impacted by their work. These individuals are frequently called to respond to individual, community, national, and even international crises. Many professionals have said “enough” and left the field because of compassion fatigue. When a “helping professional” experiences compassion fatigue, they feel hopeless, stressed and inadequate. Understanding the positive and negative aspects of helping those who experience trauma and suffering can improve your ability to help them and your ability to keep your own balance.

Objectives:

• Understand the difference between compassion satisfaction, compassion fatigue, burn-out and secondary trauma
• Understand the potential symptoms and effects associated with compassion fatigue
• Administration, scoring and interpretation of compassion fatigue assessment instruments for self and others with primary focus on the Pro-QOL.
• Identify 5 resiliency skills for the prevention of compassion fatigue and how to implement these skills towards the prevention of negative work-related effects

About Darlene Johnson

Ms. Johnson has been a member of NAFC since 2018. She is a Clinically Certified Forensic Counselor and Clinically Certified Human Trafficking Victim Services Provider.

Darlene Johnson is a Licensed Professional Counselor, Supervisor with over 25 years experience in behavioral health. She received her Associate of Science degree in psychology from Trinity Valley Community College, then went on to obtain both her Bachelor of Science and Master of Art degree in Psychology from Stephen F. Austin State University.

After graduation, she spent the few years of her career working for Texas Department of Criminal Justice in maximum security prisons where she worked with both the mentally retarded offenders and general population inmates.

After leaving the prison system, she spent five years working on the admission unit of a state hospital. In 2000, she was asked to return to the Houston prison to develop a program for the physically aggressive inmates as well as the inmates that were under Hospice Care. After setting up both programs, she returned to the state hospital where she remained until she entered private practice full-time. Even in private practice, she was unable to avoid the forensic setting. She spent the next five years conducting evaluations and counseling with both juvenile and adult probationers.

In 2008, she accepted a position with the Dallas County Jail conducting suicide risk assessments on inmates as well as overseeing the care of those in crisis (detoxing from drug/alcohol, depressed/manic, floridly psychotic or suicidal). She was also responsible for educating new employees on the various behavioral health programs available inside the jail. It was there that she realized she had a passion for educating other professionals and obtained her supervisor designation.

Mrs. Johnson has worked for a number of inpatient and outpatient facilities which gives her a variety of experience. For example, she spent five years as a court liaison; filing the legal documentation for involuntary commitments for multiple counties and attended hundreds of court hearings. Additionally, she spent several years working as a crisis clinician, completing behavioral health evaluations in emergency room settings for a large healthcare system in the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex.

Mrs. Johnson is currently in private practice just north of the metroplex and currently works with several probation departments conducting substance abuse evaluations, counseling, various classes and runs both an Intensive Outpatient Program (IOP) and Supportive Outpatient Program (SOP) for those with substance abuse issues. She continues to supervise both interns and well as students and offers continuing education training for other professionals in the area.
About Tamara McJunkin

Tamara McJunkin has been working in behavioral healthcare for 10 plus years. She received a Master’s in Rehabilitation Counseling from Arkansas State University and a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from University of Arkansas. She is a Licensed Professional Counselor in Texas, with a supervisor designation.

She began her career working in a forensic capacity with felony drug offenders, providing clinical care in a residential setting. She has gone on to develop and implement various partial hospitalization and intensive outpatient programs, as well as, a successful private practice. She has also been a featured presenter for various professional and civic groups.

Tamara has completed training in various specialties/curriculums including: “Strategies for Self-Improvement and Change, Pathways to Responsible Living” curriculum (Wanberg and Milkman), “Seeking Safety” (Lisa Najavits) a curriculum for working with clients with PTSD and substance abuse, and Dialectical Behavioral Therapy.

In her current primary professional role she works as a crisis clinician, completing behavioral health evaluations in emergency room settings for a large healthcare system in the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex.

Tamara’s passion lies in providing the most enriching experience possible to the individuals with whom she has the pleasure of working. While working in a wide variety of multidimensional treatment settings throughout her behavioral health journey, she believes compassion, assessment, and connection are the foundation for providing enriching care.

Hypnosis: A Worthy Component to Pornography Addiction Treatment –
John Knight, MS, LCPC, CCBT, CSAS

This is not a "how to do hypnosis" workshop. Working as a certified hypnotherapist and a Certified Practitioner of Neuro-Linguistic Programming requires continued study and training. Sometimes we encounter patients with histories of trauma, and we hold a concern about the possibility of a patient experiencing further trauma during their quest for healing. Through this workshop, you will grow more familiar with the potential for hypnosis as a treatment tool for pornography addiction. He will discuss potential limitations and cautions to the hypnosis process as well as the hope of a cognitive shift that radiates outward.

Goals:
- Address the trauma component to pornography addiction and its underlying shame.
- Explore treatment for unspeakable erotic excitement
- Detail the argument for training before engaging in practicing this modality.
- Introduce hypnosis as a vital component for trauma treatment of those stuck in pornography addiction.

Objectives:
- Detail potential treatments of trauma for the client suffering from pornography addiction
- Introduce the concept of a cognitive shift as a catalyst triggering resourcefulness within the client Potential limitations may have occurred due to a client's age at the time of the traumatic event
- Inform participants of possible concerns when considering hypnosis and how to proceed with a hypnosis referral
- Discuss potential secondary benefits beyond actual time of hypnosis as a positive shift continues with the client

About John Knight

Mr. Knight has been a member of NAFC since 2015. He is a Certified Cognitive Behavioral Therapist and Certified Sexual Addictions Specialist

John Knight has worked as a parish pastor, hospital chaplain and pastoral counselor over the last 30 years. His professional experience has included:
- Created Knight Counseling and Spiritual Direction, INC in 2007, Towson, Maryland
- Provided hypnosis services since 2008
- Designed and implemented treatment protocols for clients with court ordered treatment
- Started two hospital chaplaincy programs
- Served on denominational committees and presented workshops
- Conducted ethics workshops in a hospital setting
- Provided local clergy presence on hospital ethics committee
- Served as a mediator to assist conflict resolution on the local church level
- Created mindfulness video and other materials for substance abuse patients
- Served as pastor in local churches for nine years

Working as a certified hypnotherapist and a Certified Practitioner of Neuro-Linguistic Programming requires additional study and training. Sometimes we encounter patients with histories of trauma, and we hold a concern about the possibility of a patient experiencing further trauma during their quest for healing. Through this workshop, you will grow more familiar with objective and subjective perspectives toward healing. We will discuss potential limitations and cautions to the hypnosis process as well as the hope, and at times joy, of an affect shift after a client comes out of a trance state.

EFFECTIVE DOCUMENTATION AND REPORT WRITING IN FORENSIC SETTINGS – Andrew Mendonsa, PsyD, MBA, CCCJS

The days of resolving cases based on common sense, evaluator opinion, and general knowledge is long gone. The role of thoughtfully-written and well-presented forensic reports can hardly be ignored in today's legal environment.

This workshop will present an overview of various state and federal regulations related to expert report testimony, including Federal Evidence Rule 702 which governs the admissibility of an expert opinion by physicians, healthcare staff, law enforcement officials, and mental health professionals. Attendees will learn effective writing styles, report formatting and structure, content pitfalls and the effective communication of report content to different audiences.

Attendees will review reports considered well-written and will leave the workshop with examples of reports and documentation to use in practice.

Goals and Objectives:
- Attendees will identify the anatomy of a well-written report / documentation
- Attendees will list common pitfalls present in poorly written forensic documentation
- Attendees will understand various Evidence Rules which allow documentation in a legal setting

About Andrew Mendonsa

Dr. Mendonsa has provided treatment and assessment to forensic populations, including sex offenders, for over a decade. He has provided care in settings including state and federal prisons, jails, outpatient clinics, state hospitals and private practice. He is a licensed California psychologist specializing in clinical and forensic psychology.

His forensic work has been used in high-profile legal cases. He conducts Conditional Release Evaluations on Sexually Violent Predators (SVPs) at Coalinga State Hospital. He has authored over 700 forensic reports including Qualified Medical Evaluations/Agreed Medical Evaluations, Court Mandated Evaluations, Second Opinions, Psychological/Suicide Autopsies, and Peace Officer Hiring and Fit-For-Duty reports.

He is the Chief Executive Officer of Pacific Forensic Psychology Associates, Inc, a large California corporation which holds dozens of local, state and federal forensic contracts.

Dr. Mendonsa is responsible for the treatment and Containment Team Model adherence of almost 2000 state-mandated parolees. He supervises professional, intern and student-level staff. He holds an Independent Practitioner designation from the California Sex Offender Management Board.

Dr. Mendonsa is commonly featured on local and national media outlets discussing substance abuse and forensic topics. He has presented a variety of forensic topics at local, state, national and international conferences.

HELL HATH NO FURY LIKE A WOMAN SCORNED: A SEX ADDICT’S PARTNER’S RESPONSE TO BETRAYAL TRAUMA (part 1)- Diane Powers, PsyD, LPC, CCJS, CCSAS

AND

Hell Hath No Fury Like a Woman Scorned: A Possible Response to Betrayal Trauma (part 2)- Diane Powers, PsyD, LPC, CCJS, CCSAS

Partners of sex addicts suffer extreme "betrayal trauma" and then exhibit PTSD symptoms. Often these clients also have preexisting, developmental, complex trauma which exacerbates their betrayal trauma PTSD symptoms.

The etiology of PTSD symptoms simplified is discussed. This presentation will discuss a partner's journey into "discovery" (of the addict's addiction) and his/her reaction to it (betrayal trauma). It will describe the terms trauma bonding, romantic love & rejection, eroticized rage, and "looping" and how these terms help explain a partner's reaction to betrayal.

The Window of Tolerance diagram is used to illustrate how hyper-arousal and hypo-arousal symptoms of PTSD are used as a defense against an original trauma-event or trigger.

A brief neurobiological discussion will be integrated into this discussion. Powers' Theory of the Etiology of Betrayal Trauma is described. This theory is founded upon John Bowlby's Attachment and Disordered Mourning Theories. The ECR is used to illustrate hypothesized organized and disorganized partners' attachment styles.

A partner's trauma exercise will be demonstrated.

HONORING DIVERSITY WITH MINDFUL CULTURAL FACILITATION - Cheryl Stampley, PhD, LCSW, CSOTS

The challenge for 21st century work sites and society-at-large is how to accept (not just tolerate), honor and appreciate cultural diversity especially more people of color and women. We have no blueprints or previous effective models to guide us to practice diversity, or how to better relate and get to know each other. Each time we interact with another person a painting emerges, a story unfolds, enhanced or diminished by our willingness to be a bridge or an obstruction. This workshop will introduce mindful facilitation techniques to allow for a more open dialogue for individuals to feel acknowledged, validated and valued for their diverse points of views and cultural perspectives. Cultural Mindful Facilitation helps us to notice our cultural connections and disconnections; it provides a process to get to know each other and implements cross-cultural skills to effectively interact with people across cultures (i.e., cultural competence). This all-day workshop will introduce participants to the Art of Mindful Facilitation to discuss cultural issues and concerns in any work and/or community setting. This workshop is for anyone who interacts with other people. Topics covered during the morning session include: user friendly definitions for: culture, cultural competence, ethical standards for cultural competent practice, major assumptions about the counseling profession and training; ways to stop diversity conversations and unhealthy ways to communicating; ways to reconnect and rebuild trust, healthy ways to communicate; when someone is offended by your comments; meaningful ways to apologize and common workshop issues. Topics covered in the afternoon session include: a video demonstrating examples of and applying mindful facilitation techniques. This all-day workshop will provide 3 hours of Ethics and 3 hours in cultural content.

About Cheryl Stampley

Dr. Stampley has been a member of NAFC since 2011. She is a Certified Sex Offender Treatment Specialist.

Dr. Stampley is a retired Registered Nurse, Licensed Clinical Social Worker (LCSW) and College (tenured) Associate Professor. Dr. Stampley has over 20 years of research and teaching cultural diversity/cross cultural practice to professionals, undergraduate and graduate students, and members of the community. She currently consults social service organizations and academic institutions on cultural diversity issues using mindful facilitation techniques to find common ground and creating effective environments to discuss cultural diversity topics. Dr. Stampley has worked with adult male sex offenders in community settings (in Virginia & North Carolina) and a civil commitment maximum security facility. She holds a Licensed Associate Sex Offender Treatment Provider in Illinois and a Certified Sex Offender Treatment Specialist (CSOTS - NAFC) since 2011. Dr. Stampley was educated in Illinois (The University of Chicago, SSA [AM/MSW]; Loyola University Chicago, School of Social Work, PhD). She maintains active license (LCSW) in Illinois, Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee.

School-Based Threat Assessment and Violence Prevention: Parkland 20/20 – Matthew Talbot, MSW, LCSW, CCFC

The presentation will discuss the basic objectives of threat assessment and the risk factors and pathway behaviors that must be considered when assessing for the risk of targeted violence towards schools or other settings. Though school-focused, the presentation will identify how these threat assessment principles are applicable in any workplace setting or campus to prevent mass violence and targeted attacks.

Attendees will become familiar with the landmark 2004 study by the Secret Service and Department of Education, the Safe School Initiative, and how to incorporate these findings into the assessment of violence risk. A comprehensive review of the February 14, 2018 Mass Shooting in Parkland, FL will be used for attendees to apply these concepts from the SSI and better understand the pathway to violence and the fundamentals of threat assessment. Ethical considerations to biases will be addressed as vital to successful threat assessment. Video footage of the shooter prior to the incident will be used to help attendees formulate a diagnostic and behavioral threat risk impression.

Finally, a video from a man who planned a school shooting but did not engage in the attack will be used to highlight the important of protective factors, intervention, and the role of counselors and mental health professionals in supporting an individual who may pose a risk for targeted violence.

Objectives:

- Identify the 10 precursory risk factors from the Safe School Initiative correlative with targeted school violence
- Enhance knowledge base about the pathway warning behaviors leading to targeted violence in school settings
- Clarification of myths associated with school shooters and the pitfall of ‘profiling’
- Discussion of the Secret Service's National Threat Assessment Center & The Department of Education's Safe and Drug-Free Schools Program “Safe School Initiative” findings to promote safer and more supportive schools
- Applicability of the SSI findings to assessing risk for targeted violence
- Identify strategies imperative to fostering a culture of safety in schools and how these strategies can be applied in other settings
- Case study analysis of the Parkland School Shooting in 20018 to reflect the relevance and applicability of the Safe School Initiative Findings and attendee ability to apply the findings of the SSI to the Parkland case

BEHAVIORAL TECHNIQUES FOR CONTROL OF INAPPROPRIATE AROUSAL - Bret White, PhD, LCSW

This workshop focuses upon the need to develop behavioral techniques to help our clients with inappropriate arousal.

The presentation will begin with outlining the need for behavioral treatments, and will describe various types of behavioral techniques. Participants will practice the development of two techniques to make sure they can teach their clients these same techniques, and learn how they can monitor their client's improvement during use of the treatment.

Finally participants will learn how inexpensive behavior treatments can be for themselves and their clients.

Three learning objectives:

- Participants will learn why the importance of behavioral techniques
- Participants will learn two specific behavioral techniques
- Participants will learn how to monitor progression during the use of the treatments.
