NAFC 2022 Call for Presenters

WORKSHOP PROPOSAL INFORMATION AND SUBMISSION FORM

Keynote Topic

“Demystifying Male Batterer’s Value Systems, Criminality, and Batterer Intervention Programs”

The keynote session will examine how batterers think, utilize language, interpret intimate relationships and will expose the batterers’ concrete and abstract beliefs.

A review of the components of criminality and the escalation of criminal behaviors impacting the batterers themselves, the victims, law enforcement, providers and society will be presented.

Current and future trends of Batterer Intervention Programs will be explored including the controversy of appropriate treatment, the challenge of evidence-based programming and the effectiveness of Batterer Intervention programs.

Keynote Speaker

Dr. Jennie DiBartolomeo

Dr. Jennie DiBartolomeo holds a doctorate in education from Clark University specializing in education administration and training. Her other credentials consist of a BA in Education from the University of New Hampshire, a MA in Individualized Education from Goddard College, and a CAGS in Language and Reading Education from Boston University.

She is a graduate of the part-time Police Academy in New Hampshire and the author of a workbook for providers and students entitled, “Mission Statement for Batterer Intervention Program Providers and Students.”

Dr. DiBartolomeo is a former curriculum director of 21 schools, former public School Teacher and Principal, former Guardian ad Litem, former Co-Chair of the Manchester (NH) Domestic Violence Council, former Complaint Investigator for the New Hampshire Department of Education and former Undergraduate and Graduate Instructor in criminal justice, psychology, and education.

She has worked the domestic violence crisis helpline and served as a domestic violence volunteer witness victim advocate for A Safe Place.
